1.3.3: Percentage of students undertaking project work/field work/ internships (Data for the latest completed academic year)

All the courses include Project Work/ Field Work/ Internship depends on the syllabus prescribed by Kavayitri Bahinabai Chaudhari North Maharashtra University, Jalgaon. All Engineering and Management Students taking degrees carry out a substantial individual project in their final year. Each project is supervised by a member of faculty which is evaluated via written reports and presentations.

Students demonstrate and understanding of Engineering and Management principles through Mini Project and Field work, students work under the guidance of a faculty advisor to solve real-world business problems for partners in Engineering, Technology, Finance, Real Estate and many other fields. These unique practical, hands-on learning experiences give students the opportunity to put classroom learning into action, strengthen critical professional skills, and connect with industry insiders.

Internships provide the students with critical opportunities to explore job functions that match academic and personal interests. They're an invaluable way to gain work experience while exploring career options and gaining insight into organizations and career paths.
