Dear Sir/Madam,

Greetings from National Digital Library of India (NDLI) and thanks a lot for contacting us.

The registration you mentioned is your personal registration in NDLI. Since NDLI is for individual users, these are all individual registration of students, faculty members and staff of your institute done in bulk mode to facilitate en-block registration of students of the institute.

For institute level engagement the platform is NDLI Club (<https://club.ndli.iitkgp.ac.in/>).

NDLI-Club is a platform for conducting learning-oriented events, both online (both local as well as involving many other institutes) and offline, for students of an institute using contents of NDLI (and others as well) and experts (of the institute as well as external) to deliver talks or conduct sessions. Examples of online events are webinars by experts on specific topics or on examination preparation strategy. Examples of offline events are quiz sessions or debate competitions.

The benefit is to facilitate learning among students through activities. Online events can be conducted through the NDLI-Club platform itself without need of any other service.

Once an institute gets registered the NDLI-Club platform (<https://club.ndli.iitkgp.ac.in/>) and makes its students members of the NDLI-Club, the institute gets a Registration No. which will be visible in the NDLI-Club portal (<https://club.ndli.iitkgp.ac.in/>). And once the institute conducts events it gets Institutional Registration Certificates and students get event participation certificates.

We would therefore request you to set up NDLI-Club in your institute and make all students members of your NDLI-Club.

You will also then be able to provide AICTE your NDLI Registration Number.

Please get in touch with Mr. Vignesh Sornamohan (vigneshjnu@gmail.com) included in this mail, for setting up NDLI-Club in your institute and get your Registration Number.

Attaching here with the detailed procedure of NDLI club registration.

Regards
Ms. Annu Debnath
