Dr Himanshu Shekhar, Scientist G, Director (Project Monitoring), Office of Director General, Armament and Combat Engineering, is going to talk with the students of civil engineering on October 2, 2020 at 11 am onwards. The meeting will be held using zoom platform. Dr Himanshu will talk about Career Opportunities in Engineering. He will cover the opportunities not only in defence sector but in general for sectors where engineers have prospects.

Report of Event

The department is having a practice of inviting eminent industrialists, entrepreneurs and Government Engineers for having expert lectures for the student. These lectures give a real world exposure to students. Apart from this, the college invites senior and well settled alumni also to have interaction with students. The purpose is to morally boost up the students. Many a times the students feel very free in discussing with alumni on those issues with which they may not be free with their teachers or industrial engineers.

Dr Himanshu Shekhar, Scientist G, Director (Project Monitoring), Office of Director General, Armament and Combat Engineering was requested to address the students on October 2, 2020. He accepted the request and addressed the students. He talked about career opportunities in Engineering. He covered the issue in broad sense. He not only covered the opportunities for civil engineers, he talked about the opportunities for engineers in general. He said the problems in real technical world are not specific to a branch rather they are in general for engineering.
